La Belle Époque

Friday 23rd – Sunday 25th February 2018

The Georgian House Hotel, Haslemere

The French description La Belle Époque was a term of nostalgia for a time of peace, prosperity and progress, in between the Franco-Prussian War and the Great War. The period saw a significant flowering of artistic expression, centred mainly on Paris, which generated a particularly distinctive character to musical and artistic styles. Our weekend will explore this rich repertoire, and will be fully illustrated both visually and musically.

The elegant and historic Georgian House Hotel is situated in Haslemere High Street, and is set in attractive private gardens. With well-equipped modern and period bedrooms, it has its own car park, leisure spa and swimming pool.

Terry Barfoot is director of Arts in Residence, and writes widely on music for Britain's leading journals, orchestras, festivals and record companies. He lectures at Oxford and other universities, and is Publications Consultant to the Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra.

Tim Gwyther is an experienced art historian and practising artist who has exhibited widely both in London and the regions. He has taken part in several Arts in Residence events.
